Preface

There are tips for studying a language. Don't care about the details. It is also necessary to get used to thinking that it doesn't matter. No matter how much you study the structure of a bicycle, you cannot ride a bicycle. Many people ride a bicycle without knowing the structure of the bicycle. You can't ride a bicycle just by looking at it. If you want to be able to ride a bicycle, just ride a bicycle. Let's do it anyway.

Getting Started

The important thing is vocabulary. It is important to use various words. Each word has its own inevitable scene and sentence pattern. The sentence pattern has suitable scenes and words as well. Sentence patterns are not always available. That's why you shouldn't study sentence forms alone in the beginning.

Let's practice every day

First of all, it is important to practice every day. Let's do it again and again every day. Dictation is a very simple exercise of writing audible sounds and easy-to-follow activities. the method must be simple. If the content is of your favorite genre, you can listen and write whatever you want. Just choose your favorite genre of listening. Let's challenge and write as many times as possible. While listening again and again, you will become thinking about the reason why you cannot do it. This notion is called "strategy." In order to improve your language skills, you need to think about strategies by yourself. Because the strategy is different for each person to learn, it is important to find your own strategies. Dictation provides a very good opportunity to find the knack of being able to do it yourself. Again, I'll say it again. The way to dictate is for you to find out by yourself.

Listen to what you like and write

It is important to definitely listen to the contents of the script. Nowadays, it's very convenient because many of YouTube video footages have subtitles in various language recently. After seeing the subtitle, it is a very good way to repeat the phrases, without looking at subtitles. It is also a good way to write immediately without looking at subtitles. Both are a good way, but choosing what you like most. No matter how difficult it is, if it is your favorite content, it is worth trying to catch it. Please feel free to write with your wild guess while thinking "It might be said such a thing." Easiness is different from person to person. Rather than easiness, you should choose what you like. If you feel it is difficult, choose short ones and listen. Even short ones can be difficult. However, you can identify where it is difficult. The difficulty is often caused by not being aware of the content itself of a word even though the word itself is simple and easy to understand. That's why there is something you do not understand even if you look up the dictionary even no matter how many times you listen. It is important to hear what you are interested in the content.

Listen to the sentences of your favorite genres

At the beginning, let's write without looking at the workbook. Let's write the sentence little by little after listening. Since every sentence is a short sentence, please press the Play button and listen again and again. In the same way, choose your favorite program and let's write short sentences. You can choose your favorite program, favorite content. If you are studying mathematics, it is good way for you to choose a YouTube program in mathematics which you can understand the content. Also, if your hobby is gardening, it would be a nice way to choose a video about gardening. When one listens to something, one would not listen to things that are not related to oneself. Let's think about what you are interested in the first place.

Write as you heard

You write down the sentences that you heard several times. Even if you do not know the spelling of words you just listened, you should spell the sentence out. Since it is not a test, you can type it out with checking the spelling using a dictionary. I think there are cases where unknown words come out. There is something that you do not absolutely know what you are going to hear. You do not mind listen it over and over again until you give it up. It is also important to check whether sentences you write down grammatically are correct. While watching the completed sentence, listen to the sentence again and fix it if necessary.

Scoring and Feedback

If you can hear it but you misspelled it, you only have to learn the spelling. However, in dictation, there are times when you mistakenly write by listening to similar words. There are also sounds which you skip to write since you fail to hear them. In addition, there are times when multiple words are connected and it is not easy to know where the boundary of a word is. In listening exercises that just listened to with your ears, you remain vague and you can not clearly see what you could not do. However, as a dictation, you will actually understand clearly where you cannot do it. For example, if you missed the preposition, you could not hear the change, such as the connection of the sound, it is merely one of the reasons.

Exchange of opinions

The system will sometimes show sentences which you could not write properly before, and you will review those sentences again. Please try reading aloud by shadowing, reciting, etc. After daily dictation, there is a questionnaire. Please inquire about where it was difficult, what could not be done, how can you do it?

How to use software

1. Visit URL: <https://cuckoo.js.ila.titech.ac.jp/yamagen/dictee/>

2. Log in the site with TokyoTech's m-address and JCOS password.
3. The list of practice episodes will be shown. Choose the episode you want to practice.
4. Japanese input system and language-specific input system is not required. Please enter directly in the Roman alphabet.
5. By pressing the ENTER key, practice will start.
6. If you want to hear the sound once again, please press the ESC key or the speaker icon.
7. You can check the answer by pressing the ENTER key.
8. You will be given the correct answer for each hiragana. Incorrect hiragana is marked with a question mark.
9. If you want to stop practicing midway, press the "QUIT" button.
10. The amount of daily practice is shown in the performance summary.

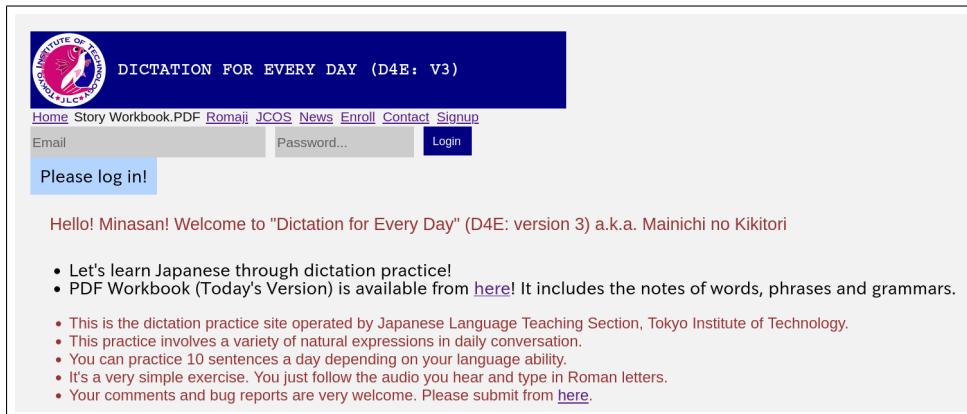

Fig. 1 Log in screen

The screenshot shows a web-based application for language learning. At the top, there is a dark blue header bar with the title "DICTATION FOR EVERY DAY (D4E: V3)" and the logo of the Institute of Technology Otsu (ITO). Below the header, a navigation bar includes links for Home, Story Workbook.PDF, Romaji, JCOS, News, Enroll, Contact, and Signup. A user profile area shows the email "yamagen@ila.titech.ac.jp" and a Logout button. A large blue callout box in the center says "Please select the lesson for today!". Below this, a table lists ten lessons with their names, numbers, and progress bars:

Lesson	Name	Progress
<input type="radio"/>	Day 10	Asking preferences	10 [progress bar]
<input type="radio"/>	Day 9	Good and Bad	10 [progress bar]
<input type="radio"/>	Day 8	Like and Dislike	21 [progress bar]
<input type="radio"/>	Day 7	na-Adjective	35 [progress bar]

<input type="radio"/>	Day 2	Be invited and inviting	20 [progress bar]
<input checked="" type="radio"/>	Day 1	Greetings	162 [progress bar]

A "Practice" button is located at the bottom left of the main content area.

Fig. 2 Episode Menu

This screenshot shows the same website interface as Fig. 2, but with a different content area. The main area contains instructions for the dictation exercise:

- Type words in the blank with romaji, then press RETURN key.
- To listen again, press ESC key or click .
- You have 3 chances to answer.
- More than 3 times, then the answer will appear.
- And move to the next.
- To quit, press QUIT button.

At the bottom, there is a red rectangular input field containing the placeholder text "Press RETURN key to start!" with a cursor. To its left are two small icons: a speaker and a bird. To the right of the input field is a blue "QUIT" button.

Chapter 1

Textbook: Volume 1

The important thing you should do is to keep practicing everyday. If you keep it doing, you will come to regard it as a habit. And finally you will become not to have even any consciousness that you are using language. Type it as you hear according to the video footages with English captions.

1.1 Week 1: Phatic Communion

Phatic communion is one of the fundamental functions of language and an indispensable notion of communication as well.

1.1.1 Day 1: Greetings

Greeting is the most basic word to build interpersonal relationships. If you do not greet, you will be in a quite bad situation. Energetically pleasant, let's greet. You surely can start a good human relationship.

1.1.6 Day 6: i-Adjective

Let's study i-Adjectives. Adjectives can express things' values, judgments, preferences, etc. The i-Adjective is an adjective ending with 'i'. The negative form of the i-Adjective uses 'ku-nai' instead of 'i'. In the past tense of the adjectives, '-katta' is used instead of 'i'. In the case of 'ii' (good), the sound changes a little, and use ‘yokunai’ (not good) or ‘yokatta’ (was good).

1.1.7 Day 7: na-Adjective

Let's learn na-Adjectives in the situations of daily life. "Kirei" (beautiful) seems to end with "i", but it is a na-Adjective. Instead, "utsukushii" is an i-adjective. Ending with "shii" is definitely i-adjective. However, if there is a time to remember such a rule, you should remember i-adjectives and na-adjectives in affirmative and negative forms at a time. Just like playing games with friends such as:

- na-Adjectives: "kirai?" "kirai-janai"/"suki?" "suki-janai"
- i-Adjectives: "omoshiroi?" "omoshirokunai"/"muzukashii?" "muzukashikunai"

1.6 Week 6: Strategic Expressions

When you suddenly forget what you should say next, what are you going to do? It may be a good idea that you pretend that you understand something very well even if you actually do not understand anything at all. Or it is also a good idea that you will not make any decisions but express very ambiguous sentences for a while. Those kinds of expressions are so called “strategic expressions.”

Appendix A

Fundamentals

Hiragana and 50 sounds chart

Hiragana is the basis of Japanese, which consists of 50 sounds. It is a combination of five vowels and 10 consonants. Practicing the following basic words, you can learn everything. What is more important is that verbs are conjugated based on Table Appendix B.

Table Appendix A.1 Conjugation table (I Group verbs)

⑨ ⑧	⑦ ⑥	⑤ ④	③ ②	①		form
w r y	m b n	t s g	k
わ ら や ま ば な た さ が か あ	a	-nai	A negative
い り み び に ち し ぎ き い	i	-masu	B conjunctive
う る ゆ む ん ぶ ぬ つ す ぐ く う	u	.	C dictionary
え れ め べ ね て せ げ け え	e	-ba,-ru	D conditional/potential
お ろ よ も ん の と そ ご こ お	o	-u	E volitional
t t	t	i		-te	F
n n n		i		-de	G

Verb types

The conjugation of Japanese verbs is classified into three types.

- 1st group verb (1G) conjugates according to aueo vowels.
- 2nd group verb (2G) includes two types of verbs: i-verb conjugates according to vowel ‘i’, and e-verb conjugates according to vowel ‘e’.
- 3rd group verb (3G) conjugates irregularly. Only two verbs ‘suru’ (do) and ‘kuru’ (come) belong to this group.

1st group verb conjugates as shown in Table Appendix B. In the case of ‘write’, the negative form is ‘a-nai’, like ‘kakanai’; The masu-form is ‘i-masu’ like ‘kakimasu’; the dictionary form is ‘u-.’ Like ‘kaku’; the possible form is ‘e-ru’ like ‘kaku’; and the volitional form becomes ‘o-u’ like ‘kako’.

You can see that it is conjugated by consonants k + vowels, a, i, u, e, and o.

The 2nd Group verbs conjugate as follows: i-verb: kinai/not wear, kinamu/wear, kiru/wear, kireru/can wear, kiyō/will wear. e-verb: tabenai/not eat, tabemasu/eat, taberu/eat, tabereru/can eat, tabeyō/will eat.

The 3rd group verbs conjugate as follows: suru/do: shinai/not do, shimasu/do, suru/do, dekiru/can do, shiyō/will do. kuru/come: konai/not come, kimasu/come, kuru/come, korareru/can come, koyō/will come. Since they conjugate irregularly, you must learn them as they are, but since they are commonly used verbs, you will be able to remember them easily while using them.

Basics Sentence Patterns

There are some very fundamental things before beginning this course. The type of Japanese sentences can be categorized roughly into 4 types. It is a verb sentence, an i-adjective(i ending adjective) sentence, a na-adjective(na ending adjective) sentence, and a noun sentence.

In addition to that, in Japanese, there are six ( $2 \times 3$ ) patterns of sentence ends consisting of a combination of casual/formal level and positive/negative sentence, and non-past/past tense.

1. Casual and Formal
2. Positive and Negative
3. Tone and Intonation

Casual and Formal

1. Noun end Casual
A: 元気? B: うん、元気。/ううん、元気じゃない。
A: Fine? B: Yes I am./No, I am not.
2. Noun end Formal
A: 元気ですか。B: ええ、元気です。/いいえ、元気じゃありません。
A: Are you fine? B: Yes I am./No, I am not.

Non-past and Past

1. Casual Non-past: 食べる。
2. Casual Past: 食べた。
3. Casual Past Negative: 食べなかつた。
4. Formal Non-past: 食べます。
5. Formal Past Negative: 食べませんでした。

Representative sounds of non-past sentences are ‘ru’ and ‘u.’ On the other hand, the representative sound at the end of the past sentence is ‘ta.’ It will not change even when it is Formal.

Tone and Intonation

Question sentence puts ‘ka’ at the end of a sentence or raises a tone of voice, it becomes a question.

- Rising tone
- Up and down

Playing a game

Let's play a game to understand sentence types.

Verb sentences

In the sundial of the photograph, it is engraved with “Carpe Diem” in Latin, “Seize the day” in English. It means that you will enjoy the day and living the best. It is a phrase that appears in the poetry of ancient Roman poet Horatius in the 1st century BC. The phrase also appears in the movie “Dead Poets Society”, 1989 played by Robin William.

Quintus Horatius Flaccus
BC.65.12.8–BC.8.11.27
Roman poet from Southern Italy
